AIESEC International's policy

Purpose of having a hate speech policy:

AIESEC strives to be a safe space for all members of our association to be able to live according to the AIESEC way. Our brand includes our trademark and all t brand elements that you can find in the official AIESEC brand toolkit that should not be used to encourage hate speech. It includes but is not limited to communication on internal and external channels. Referencing the AIESEC way - AIESEC does not discriminate on the basis of gender identity and/or expression, sexual orientation, ability, creed, religion, nor on the basis of national, ethnic, or social origin.

Its purpose is to complement the code of ethics that already exists in the global compendium. It would be added as an annex/supporting document to the global compendium in the upcoming legislative meeting.

Policy itself

We believe that people use their voice and connect more freely when they don't feel attacked on the basis of who they are. That is why we don't allow hate speech in AIESEC. It creates an environment of intimidation and exclusion, and in some cases may promote offline violence. This will go against AIESEC being a safe space for all members of our association.

We define hate speech as a direct attack against people – rather than concepts or institutions – on the basis of what we call protected characteristics: race, ethnicity, national origin, disability, religious affiliation, caste, sexual orientation, sex, gender identity, and serious disease. We define attacks as violent or dehumanizing speech, harmful stereotypes, statements of inferiority, expressions of contempt, disgust or dismissal, cursing and calls for exclusion or segregation. We also prohibit the use of harmful stereotypes, which we define as dehumanizing comparisons that have historically been used to attack, intimidate or exclude specific groups, and that are often linked with offline violence. Sometimes, based on local nuance, we consider certain words or phrases as code words for PC groups.

We recognize that people sometimes share content that includes someone else's hate speech to condemn it or raise awareness. In other cases, speech that might otherwise violate our standards can be used self-referentially or in an empowering way. Our policies are designed to allow room for these types of speech, but we require people to indicate their intent clearly. If the intention is unclear, we may remove content or ask respective member entities to remove it on our official channels of community and work.

Examples of what we can not communicate in the name of AIESEC or on the platforms of AIESEC

1. Discrimination of a whole group of people based on characteristics that are inherent to them and non-changeable
2. Utilizing our physical and digital channels to be able to promote opinions that target a group of people based on characteristics that are inherent to them and non-changeable
3. Harassment towards an individual or group of individuals who do not have the same opinion as them, either publicly or privately.

Employees or volunteers of AIESEC

AIESEC will not tolerate hate speech toward individuals in any physical or virtual channels of engagement and community building. Anyone would be able to report any evidence of hate speech and this would involve consequences including but not limited to

- warning
- termination from the current position
- monetary fines
- along with any other recommendations that the global ethics subcommittee would find appropriate.

In regards to comments or communication being made as individuals not within physical or virtual spaces hosted or affiliated with AIESEC - there is no current governance. There is no intention to be able to govern this from the global level e.g restrictions on off-duty social media use with a personal account. Primarily because AIESEC does not have the governance systems or the need for this strong accountability considering the volunteer nature for the majority of our membership. However, each chapter can choose what they include in internal policies regarding their employees or members' off-duty social media or associations as an individual.

Enforcement (Education)

- Education about hate speech will be carried through in an educational campaign on our internal social media
- A proposal of our official guidelines in regards to hate speech will be presented in the May Emergency Legislative meeting.
- Consequences will be determined by the global ethics subcommittee for any member or entity that fails to comply with the policy.

Review team

- Global social media including external and internal channels would be monitored by the Brand team of AIESEC International.
- Would include it also to the brand governance mandate that is currently in the process
- Any member of the organization can report any content that they see that they believe violates the policies that we have in place.

Instagram community guidelines

We want to foster a positive, diverse community. We remove content that contains credible threats or hate speech, content that targets private individuals to degrade or shame them, personal information meant to blackmail or harass someone, and repeated unwanted messages. We do generally allow stronger conversation around people who are featured in the news or have a large public audience due to their profession or chosen activities.

It's never OK to encourage violence or attack anyone based on their race, ethnicity, national origin, sex, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, religious affiliation, disabilities or diseases. When hate speech is being shared to challenge it or to raise awareness, we may allow it. In those instances, we ask that you express your intent clearly.

Serious threats of harm to public and personal safety aren't allowed. This includes specific threats of physical harm as well as threats of theft, vandalism and other financial harm. We carefully review reports of threats and consider many things when determining whether a threat is credible.

Facebook community standards

Policy rationale

We believe that people use their voice and connect more freely when they don't feel attacked on the basis of who they are. That is why we don't allow hate speech on Facebook. It creates an environment of intimidation and exclusion, and in some cases may promote offline violence.

We define hate speech as a direct attack against people – rather than concepts or institutions – on the basis of what we call protected characteristics: race, ethnicity, national origin, disability, religious affiliation, caste, sexual orientation, sex, gender identity and serious disease. We define attacks as violent or dehumanising speech, harmful stereotypes, statements of inferiority, expressions of contempt, disgust or dismissal, cursing and calls for exclusion or segregation. We also prohibit the use of harmful stereotypes, which we define as dehumanising comparisons that have historically been used to attack, intimidate or exclude specific groups, and that are often linked with offline violence. We consider age a protected characteristic when referenced along with another protected characteristic. We also protect refugees, migrants, immigrants and asylum seekers from the most severe attacks, though we do allow commentary and criticism of immigration policies. Similarly, we provide some protections for characteristics such as occupation, when they're referenced along with a protected characteristic. Sometimes, based on local nuance, we consider certain words or phrases as code words for PC groups.

We recognise that people sometimes share content that includes someone else's hate speech to condemn it or raise awareness. In other cases, speech that might otherwise violate our standards can be used self-referentially or in an empowering way. Our policies are designed to allow room for these types of speech, but we require people to clearly indicate their intent. If the intention is unclear, we may remove content.

TikTok Community Guidelines

Hateful behavior

TikTok is a diverse and inclusive community that has no tolerance for discrimination. We do not permit content that contains hate speech or involves hateful behavior, and we remove it from our platform. We ban accounts and/or users that engage in severe or multiple hate speech violations or that are associated with hate speech off the TikTok platform.

Attacks and slurs on the basis of protected attributes

We define hate speech or behavior as content that attacks, threatens, incites violence against, or otherwise dehumanizes an individual or a group on the basis of the following protected attributes:

- Race
- Ethnicity
- National origin
- Religion
- Caste
- Sexual orientation
- Sex
- Gender
- Gender identity
- Serious disease
- Disability
- Immigration status

Slurs are defined as derogatory terms that are intended to disparage groups or individuals based on any protected attributes listed above. To minimize the spread of egregiously offensive terms, we remove all slurs from our platform, unless the terms are reappropriated, used self-referentially (i.e., by members of the protected group), or used in a way that does not disparage (e.g., educational context).

Do not post, upload, stream, or share:

- Content claiming individuals or groups with protected attributes are physically, mentally, or morally inferior or referring to them as criminals, animals, inanimate objects, or other non-human entities
- Content promoting or justifying violence, exclusion, segregation, or discrimination against them
- Content that includes the use of non-self referential slurs
- Content that targets transgender or non-binary individuals through misgendering or deadnaming
- Content that depicts harm inflicted upon an individual or a group on the basis of a protected attribute

Hateful ideology

Hateful ideologies are those that demonstrate clear hostility toward people because of their protected attributes. Hateful ideologies are incompatible with the inclusive and supportive community that our platform provides and we remove content that promotes them.

Do not post, upload, stream, or share:

- Content that praises, promotes, glorifies, or supports any hateful ideology (e.g., white supremacy, misogyny, anti-LGBTQ, antisemitism)
- Content that contains names, symbols, logos, flags, slogans, uniforms, gestures, salutes, illustrations, portraits, songs, music, lyrics, or other objects related to a hateful ideology
- Content that promotes, supports, or advertises conversion therapy or related program
- Content that denies well-documented and violent events have taken place affecting groups with protected attributes (e.g., Holocaust denial)
- Claims of supremacy over a group of people with reference to other protected attributes
- Conspiracy theories used to justify hateful ideologies

Violent extremism

We take a firm stance against enabling violence on or off TikTok. We do not allow people to use our platform to threaten or incite violence, or to promote violent extremist organizations, individuals, or acts. When there is a threat to public safety or an account is used to promote or glorify off-platform violence, we ban the account. When warranted, we will report threats to relevant legal authorities. To effectively protect our community, we may consider off-platform behavior to identify violent extremist organizations and individuals on our platform. If we find such organizations or individuals, we will ban their accounts.

Threats and incitement to violence

We consider incitement to violence as advocating for, directing, or encouraging other people to commit violence. We do not allow threats of violence or incitement to violence on our platform that may result in serious physical harm.

Do not post, upload, stream, or share:

- Statements of intent to inflict physical injuries on an individual or a group
- Statements or imagery that encourage others to commit or that advocate for violence
- Conditional or aspirational statements that encourage other people to commit violence
- Calls to bring weapons to a location with the intent to intimidate or threaten an individual or group with violence
- Instructions on how to make or use weapons that may incite violence

Violent extremist organizations and individuals

We do not allow organizations or individuals on our platform who promote or engage in violence, including terrorist organizations, organized hate groups, criminal organizations, and other non-state armed groups that target civilians.

Terrorist organizations

Terrorists and terrorist organizations are non-state actors that threaten violence, use violence, and/or commit serious crimes (such as crimes against humanity) against civilian populations in pursuit of political, religious, ethnic, or ideological objectives.

Organized hate groups

We use the term “organized hate” to refer to those individuals and organizations who attack people based on protected attributes, such as race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, caste, sexual orientation, sex, gender, gender identity, or immigration status. We consider attacks to include actions that incite violence or hatred, that aim to dehumanize individuals or groups, or that embrace a hateful ideology.

Criminal organizations

Criminal organizations are transnational, national, or local groups that have engaged in serious crimes, including violent crimes (e.g., homicide, rape, robbery, assault), trafficking (e.g., human, organ, drug, weapons), kidnapping, financial crimes (e.g., extortion, blackmail, fraud, money laundering), or cybercrime.

Do not post, upload, stream, or share:

- Content that praises, promotes, glorifies, or supports violent acts or extremist organizations or individuals
- Content that encourages participation in, or intends to recruit individuals to, violent extremist organizations
- Content with names, symbols, logos, flags, slogans, uniforms, gestures, salutes, illustrations, portraits, songs, music, lyrics, or other objects meant to represent violent extremist organizations or individuals
